

I support strong net neutrality, with ISPs classified as common carriers under Title II. Title II should then be applied to ALL carriers. I oppose the reclassification of broadband providers as information providers. A tiered internet is unethical: Information should be free, and the internet is for everyone.